Bianca is an award-nominated queer actress and writer based in Vancouver. From a young age she pursued the arts, 'donating' her first novel to the school library in a moment of martyr-like sacrifice. It was never seen again.

Her short film and directorial debut, Mr. Khatia, has been selected for the Kursaal Film Festival in San Sebastian. She will soon be seen as the lead in Hannah Dougherty's upcoming short, She Said F Off. As co-creator of LGBTQ+ series Thread, in collaboration with Boldly, she was selected to participate in the inaugural TIFF Series Accelerator. Bianca's work is character-driven and intentional, galvanised by the desire to create engaging stories, conjure with fellow creatives, and make meaningful impact.
